The body was found lying a few feet head lying down hill. The clothing was saturated with blood, but all the blood was toward the foot of the murdered ; man, and not toward his head, which would have been the case had he been murdered where found. There was no indications of a struggle in the vicinity. and it is supposed that he was murdered in one of the sporting houses and the body carried and thrown where it was found. There is absolutely no clew to indicate who committed the deed, and the police are at a loss to know how to proiched.

The murdered man was about fifty years of age, and lived four miles north of this city, and is the father of six children. He was extremely poor and the murder was not committed for the purpose of robbery, but was the result of a drunken brawl, as he was last seen at H e'clock in a scioon throwing dice for drinks. Hundreds of people viewed the body all marning, where it lay by the roadside ere it was removed to the to the railway strike. mergue, where the lequest was held.

The verdiot was given in accord with the above facts and in the meantime the police is investigating to ascertain his wanderings during the night in the hope of being able to discover who committed the morder. The police has been notified that Iwo shots were fired by unknown persons in that vicinity about midnight, but as that is of an almost nightly occurrence in that part of the city it furnishes no clew to the mystery. favor. It was a constitutional argument, which was listened to by members who crowded around him, some to ply him with questions, which he readily answered. The success of the measure is wholly due to Mr. Cooper. For three months he has worked to get his bill before the house. Not being a member of the committee which considered it he was handicapped. and only through persistent appeal did he prevail on the committee to report it Senator George, chairman of the judi ciary committee, says he will report the bill to the senate in reasonable time and assures its passage. hees and Turple will take hold of the bill in the senate. The bill does not compel states to tax greenbacks, but it authorizes them to do so by repealing the law which prohibits states from taxing them to make the law conform with the federal laws. The Indiana legislature exempted green backs from taxation in the new tax law. The next legislature will have to repeal that part of the tax law, then, when the assessor's list for taxation of personal property and money on hand on the first Monday in April of next year, the taxdodger will not be able to save himself by converting his money into greenbacks for one day only. The Cooper bill will add several millions annually to the tax lists of Indiana, unless the next legislature should be republican, in which event the state exemption law would hardly be repealed. The only point of interest in the day's proceedings in the house was the taking of the tariff bill from the speaker's table and its reference to the committee of ways and means, but this was unattended by any outbreak, or by any excitement or remarks. Several unimportant bills were passed. The house took a reces until 8 o'clock, the evening session being devoted to private pension bills. The senate held a short session today and adjourned at 1:35 until Monday

TO PUT IN CONFERENCE.

Warm Day in the House Over the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 7 .- The intense interest and wild excitement which marked the passage of the Wilson bill by the house some months ago and which was then transferred in a modified and more dignified form to the senate, broke out again in the house today when the tariff bill was put in conference after some lively debate in the house, the amendments being disagreed to in gross and without opportunity for separate votes on special schedules, Mr. Reed took occasion to twit the democrats for following the precedent set by the remblicans in the Fifty-first congress, a proceeding which they had violently denounced at the time.

Mr. Wilson then urged on the house the secessity of standing steadfastly by the two cardinal principles of the house bill-free raw material and the ad valorem system of taxation-and thus keeping faith with the people who had sent them to con-gress to effect this reform. He was anand then after the adoption of Mr. Wilson's motion and the appointment of conferces, the house at 125 o'clock adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Lisle of Kentucky.

without having transacted any business Doubtless for Use in Connection with the Strike.

> NEW YORK, July 5.-Within the past four days two bombs have been taken to police headquarters, having been found, it is said, in places where their explosion meant great loss of life and extensive damage to property. The first bomb was found on Monday and after being inspected was sent to the bureau of combustibles. The affair was found to consist outwardly of a plated mass of tin and felt worked together by cement and other compounds almost as compactly as bron. The second bomb was brought in today. The police apparently think the explosives were meant to do damage in connection with the great railway strike.

Four Fatally Shot.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., Juy 7.-Nn a street encounter here last night John and Ballard Faulkner, brothers, were instantly killed, and Charles and Dave Justice fatally wounded. The former has already died and the latter cannot live long. Ballard Plymale was also seriously wounded. Plymaie is now in jail, together with Lou Cole, a member of the Cincinnati lumber firm of C.
